Hello Kids,

I have really enjoyed having you each in Learning with Legos. You are all such hard workers and so creative too. Thanks for sharing all of your terrific projects with me!

Hugs,

Mrs. Lessman

Learning with Legos:

This week, for your final project, you are building anything that represents you. You might want to use Lego bricks to build your initials or your name. Maybe you want to build a favorite animal, food or vehicle. The sky is the limit. Just make sure that whatever you build tells something about you as a person. Send me photos if you like. My email is mindy.lessman@thompsonschools.org
